

U.S. FUNDING STARTS

The producers are happy to announce that our dcoumentary The United States Of Hoodoo has been approved for the San Francisco Film Society's project development & fiscal sponsorship program.

Acceptance into the program requires that the director demonstrates high professional standards through previous work and propose a project that promises to be an imaginative, if not transformative contribution to the media arts field. In addition, the prospective project must be feasible within the budget outlined. The San Francisco Film Society has just confirmed that our project meets all of these requirements.
